Dylan Marsh

Working Practices and Legislation

4.2 Explain why copyright is important in the film industry

Why does copyright law exist?	It exists to stop people from stealing content and ideas from other companies or people.
What kind of work is covered by copyright?	films, books, music, adverisment, tv
What might happen if you were to use copyrighted material in your film?	You would get a fine of a certain amount of money and you will have to take the content down. you may also be taken to court.
How can you make sure not to infringe copyright law in your film?	You will have to get permission from the company or person and you may have to pay to get permission.
How has copyright law and other IP regulation affected your film production?	It limits the amount of stuff we can use in our films like music and even what the actor wear and what on the film.